ALL THREE CLUBS WORKING HARD FOR REGATTA DAY

Puunene Club Training Hard—Every Boat Being Used By Crews—Hui Nalus Cannot Get Boat—Much Interest Is Shown In Coming Races.

The rowing crews are out every evening now working hard for the coming regatta sports, which promise to be the best ever pulled off in Honolulu harbor.

With a new club entered in the races against the Myrtles and Healanis, the events are attracting more attention than ever. It is a pity that neither the Healanis nor the Myrtles can see fit to allow the Hui Nalu a barge to train in, as the Waikiki boys are just crying to enter. It is a newly-formed club, so could not do everything at once, and one of the things they wish to do was to enter the junior barge race, but have no boat to use.

It looks as though the plan will fall through, as both the Myrtles and Healanis can not afford to aid charity at the present time, as they are out to win on Regatta Day and the boys are using all the barges each evening, as it means hard work to win this year, as both crews are very strong and with the Puunene Club as a surprise package they need to work extra hard in order to win this year.

The Puunene crew are in Honolulu now and are out on the water every evening under strict training. The boys will make their initial bow to the public on September 15. The boys are staying at the Myrtle Boat Club and this does not mean that they are not out to defeat the Myrtles, for they are and expect to when the races are pulled off.

Both the men and crew this year are the best ever and this goes to show that it will be a hard fight for the honors this year. Last Regatta Day the Myrtles had a cinch in all of the events, but it will no doubt be a different story for them to tell this year, as they will have something to work for.

Among all the three new barges that have arrived lately for the three clubs, the Myrtles seem to have the best, boat, although the Puunene club has a dandy one also.

The three clubs will issue invitations to friends during the day, and the friends of the Puunene club will be welcomed to both the Healanis and Myrtle sheds. In the evening a dance will be given at the Young Hotel, and admission to the dance will be one dollar. The receipts will be equally divided among the three clubs, and as the Hawaiian Rowing Association allows each club $125 annually for expenses, the expenses are much larger, so what tickets are sold will help the clubs very much.

The committee in charge of the dance consists of Short and Hughes of Puunene; Clark and Foster Davis, Myrtles, and Bert Lightfoot and Lemke, Healanis.

Captain Cunha of the Healanis is keeping a close watch on the men who are out training each evening, as he wants only the best men in the race this year. Gus Bechert, Paul Jarrett and Jim Lloyd are the coaches of the club. The three crews are out every evening now, both the seniors and freshmen using the new Alfred Rogers, while the juniors are using the Healanis barge.

Another interesting event in the coming regatta will be the four-paddle canoe race. Both the Ukelele crew and the Myrtles will enter a crew in the coming event. The Hui Nalu and Outrigger boys are planning to enter a four-paddle crew. In the main event of the canoe races, which will be for six-paddle canoes, the Hui Nalu and Outrigger crew will be the only ones to compete, as the Kona crew will not be on hand this year to compete in the event.

When the Ukelele Patrol canoe crew meets the Myrtle paddling bunch there is going to be something doing in the way of getting through the water. The respective crews have been chosen and they are as follows:

Ukelele crew — K. Reidford, A. Brown, S. Nicholson, G. Ballentyne, W. Cowles and G. Brown.

Myrtles — E. Podmore, F. Auerbach, C. Sullivan, R. Smith, K. Smith and W. Rosa.

The Puunene crew is working hard in the harbor every evening and Captain Hughes believes that his men will give the other crews a run for the honors. The newly-formed crew includes the following: S. Short, R. E. Hughes (captain), W. Scholtz, Arthur Taylor, R. D. Walker, F. A. Lufkin and Jack Walker (cox).

W. K. SIXSMITH HERE TO TEACH

Man Who Taught Roosevelt
Manly Art Now Teaching at Leilehua.

W. K. Sixsmith, the man who taught ex-President Roosevelt the manly art, is now visiting in Honolulu. While here Mr. Sixsmith will hold classes at Leilehua, where he will teach the officers and enlisted men the art of boxing, which is a great benefit to one's physical health.

Sixsmith is down here mostly for a vacation and sightseeing, but while in the Islands concluded that he would give a few lessons in his profession.

He went down to Leilehua and arranged his work during his stay here. He will start in with his classes early in September, and they will continue for about a month. While at Leilehua he will keep some of the officers and men busily engaged avoiding his left and right jabs.

Sixsmith has had a success of his teachings, and is carrying along a large file of recommendations from well-known army officers and schools. He is doing most of his work with the men of the army and navy.

The amateur pugilist is carrying out one of the ideas of ex-President Roosevelt, who expressed the opinion that it would be a good thing for the army and navy, if the enlisted men and officers paid more attention to making themselves proficient at handling their "mitts."

When asked whether Teddy could use the mitts well, he said: "You bet he can. We went at it as if we were in a real fight, and he certainly mixed it up all right. He can take all kinds of punishment. We went through all the regular exercises."

On the trip to the Islands Sixsmith is accompanied by his Boston prize bull terrier, which answers to the name of "Jimmy." He takes Jimmy along with him wherever he goes.

Mr. Sixsmith fought in former years under the name of Jimmy Murphy. One of his hardest fought battles was away back when he was young in the ring. It was a fifty-seven-round bout against Tommy Ryan, and it ended in a draw. The men used two-ounce gloves at the time. This fight took place in 1889.

He has fought in about fifty bouts and has never lost a fight over the ten-round limit. He lost a few of the four and six-round events.

Sixsmith has been with Roosevelt twice, first teaching him in 1906 and again before his trip to Africa in 1909. He has many recommendations from high officials whom he has instructed, among them being Major James R. Ewing, who was in command of the 9th Cavalry, who was a pupil under Sixsmith among many other officers of the regiment.

Lately Sixsmith has been instructing men of the 22nd Infantry, and they all took a great deal of interest in him. In some of his classes he had 124 men on the floor at one time, and he was kept busy right along. Last year he taught the students of the St. Antonio private school, in Texas, the art of boxing. If he finds time while here he may start to give lessons in town to those who wish to take up the art of using the mitts right. He is now stationed at Leilehua.

COUNTRY CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING SEPTEMBER 14

On September 14 the Country Club members will hold their annual meeting. It will be at this time that a new schedule for golf will be arranged. The members are taking a great deal of interest in the outcome of the new schedule.

Improvements are being made at the clubhouse and the place is being put in the best of condition. At the annual meeting held September 14 the officers for the coming year will be elected.

President Walter Dillingham has offered a cup for competition and has been contested for during the past few months. The cup goes to the person who turns in the lowest score.

There will be a tournament pulled off at the Country Club next Sunday and a big crowd will no doubt turn out.

Marcelline bought another bat this week, which he will use next Sunday. The Stars may win the game next Sunday, since the bat is supposed to meet all curves at the right time.

CHAMPION TEAM MAY PLAY HERE

Both English and American
Teams to Meet September
7 in Semifinals.

The possibility of the champion tennis players which are to compete for the Davis Cup in Australia next month, playing a match with a local team while passing through here are bright. A well-known tennis player of the city has taken the matter up, and as soon as he knows what members are coming he will try and make arrangements with them to play a match with a local team during their short stay in port if they come this way.

The American and English teams have been picked to represent the two countries in the preliminary matches to be played at the West Side Tennis Club in New York September 7, 8 and 9.

The American team will consist of W. A. Larned, national champion; R. D. Little of New York and M. C. McLoughlin and T. C. Bundy, the Pacific Coast stars.

The winning team will go to Australia to challenge for the international trophy now held in that country.

It has been unofficially stated that those who have been nominated by the U. S. L. T. A. to play in the Davis Cup preliminary match with the British team if successful will go to Australia.

W. A. Larned, the national champion, has played on other United States teams against the British, but has never before consented to go to the far-away country for the international match. This year, perhaps his last in defense of the national title, it is thought that he has changed his mind; at least, he has not stated emphatically that he will not go with the team if it comes through successfully.

R. D. Little is a veteran internationalist. He is known to every follower of the game at least by reputation, and it is believed that he stands ready to make the sacrifice the long journey will entail.

McLoughlin has visited Australia before, and both he and Bundy have stated they will go if everything works out in favor of the home team.

The English team is composed of the following, who arrived in New York yesterday: C. F. Dixon, A. H. Lowe and A. E. Beamish.

The local tennis players hope that the plan to have the coming team play a match with a Honolulu team when it reaches here will be a success.

TEAMS PLAYING CLOSE GAMES

Baseball on the Garden Island is still going strong among the teams of the Kaula Baseball League.

Last Sunday the Makawela once more proved that they were going to be real champions of the series by defeating the Homesteads, beating them by a big margin—10-2. It was a one-sided game that failed to awake much enthusiasm.

To the other side of the island journeyed the Lihue team, twenty-five miles, to meet the Kilaueas, who once led the series but have now fallen to third place.

The Kilaueas were defeated on their own grounds to the tune of 5-5, after a very exciting match. The fair sex from around the village were on hand and cheered for their team until the last man went to bat, but the boys failed to pull through.

The Lihues had a big lead up to the eighth inning, the score being 6 to 1, but in the last half of the eighth the Kilaueas brightened up and were determined to enlarge their score, and they certainly succeeded in doing so after some hard slugging and base stealing. When the eighth was over the Kilaueas boys had piled up four runs. Things then looked dangerous for the Lihues, and they tried to get another lead in the first half of the ninth, but failed. The Kilaueas also failed to score in the last inning, and the visitors were therefore winners after a close and exciting game.

Another good game was played at Elele, when the home team slipped one over on the Kawaihae by 3 to 1. This was a rattling good go also.

Young Togo, the Japanese boxer who has made a wonderful showing in four and six-round bouts on the Coast, will arrive in Honolulu very soon. Togo is known on the Coast as the "Red Demon," and he is managed by Charles Robinson, who is also coming to Honolulu with him.
